OFFICER FIRES AT FLEEING PAIR AFTER SHOOTING

Eckmann Now At Prince Rupert On Search Expedition

Flew Through Two Snow Storms After Halt At Alert Bay

Plane Wrangell, Equipped With Emergency Radio at Victoria; Reaches Northern British Columbia Port at 11.53 o'Clock This Morning; Great Hinterland of Province Will Be Scoured in Effort to Pick Up Trace of Missing Aviators.

Pilot Ansel Eckmann, at the helm of the search plane Wrangell, reached Prince Rupert at 11.53 o'clock this morning from Victoria via Vancouver and Alert Bay, according to word received by Provincial Police headquarters here.

With Frank Wadman as his co-pilot and mechanic, Eckmann set out without any delay on his air quest in search of Pilot Robin "Pat" Benahan and his two companions, Samuel Clift of Seattle and Frank Hatcher, mechanic.

The Wrangell will keep in close touch with the Provincial Police department in Victoria, having been equipped with a special portable emergency receiving and transmitting set, designed and fitted by Constable P. T. G. Daniels.

Eckmann left Victoria yesterday morning at 9.30 o'clock for Vancouver, where he equipped his machine with sleeping bags and other necessary supplies for the long search.

FLY IN SNOW
Eckmann reported a tough trip to Prince Rupert, leaving Alert Bay shortly after 10 o'clock, the flier encountered several storms, including two snowstorms.

Eckmann will confer with the Seattle party which has been searching the coastline between Prince Rupert and Ketchikan, Alaska, on board the auxiliary schooner Dorothea. He will work out of Prince Rupert in the general direction of Stewart, on the Portland Canal, and the Nass district. He will pay more attention to the interior than to the coast, line which has been extensively searched by Royal Canadian Air Force and United States Naval planes.

Eckmann took off from Vancouver shortly after noon yesterday with a large crowd of spectators on hand to wish him good luck.

Benahan disappeared on the night of October 28 in the neighborhood of Prince Rupert while flying to Alert Bay to join the search for Capt. E. J. A. Burke's missing party. He left Butedale at 5.20 p.m., expecting to reach Prince Rupert before dark, and was never seen again, although his motor was heard at various points near Rupert.

PREVIOUS SEARCHES
Eckmann, assisted by two Royal Canadian air force planes and a U.S. navy amphibian, made a thorough search of the coastline between Butedale and Skagway, but failed to find any trace of the men or machine. U.S. pilots were drawn into the (Concluded on Page 2)

CONFERENCE ON B.C. UNIVERSITY FUNDS TO-NIGHT

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 5.—When the board of governors of the University of British Columbia meets representative of the Provincial Government this evening to discuss university finances it will maintain its attitude that responsibility rests with the Government, it is understood.

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, and Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, will attend the meeting on behalf of the Government. It is expected Mr. Hinchliffe will renew his proposal that the board evolve plans to place the institution on a self-supporting basis.

PRAIRIE FARMERS URGED TO TAKE YEAR'S WHEAT HOLIDAY

Canadian Press
Regina, Jan. 5.—Discontinuance of wheat production on the prairies for one year is advocated by George Langley, former Minister of Municipal Affairs of Saskatchewan.

Speaking on the "wheat crisis," Mr. Langley said the farmers of the prairies should discontinue wheat planting next year and concentrate on mixed farming—raise a few head of livestock and some hogs and plant a garden—until market conditions should improve.

FULL WHEAT POOLS NEEDED, SAYS MOLONEY

Visiting Vancouver, Australian Minister of Markets, Gives Views on Trade

Will Be in Victoria To-morrow on Way Home After Crossing Canada

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 5.—Ultimate salvation of the wheat growers of the world lies in complete national and international control by the growers themselves, in the opinion of Hon. Parker J. Moloney, Australian Minister of Markets and Transport, who arrived here today, bound for his home country.

Mr. Moloney discussed the wheat situation frankly, but made it plain he was advancing his personal views only.

"Until sellers of wheat become as highly organized as buyers of wheat, we are always liable to reach periods of chaos," he said.

"To bring about this organized state among sellers it is necessary, in my opinion, that each wheat producing country should adopt a thoroughly organized marketing system, and to do this it would be necessary to have a one hundred per cent pooling system controlled by a board comprised of representatives of the growers."

WHEAT ONE VOICE
"The growers would then be able to speak with one voice in regard to chartering of carriers, insurance and all other matters relating to effective handling of their product."

When each wheat producing country was so organized, they could effectively join hands and come to agreements on all questions affecting the world position.

"I do not infer for a moment that this should be done for purpose of securing fancy prices for wheat, but merely for the purpose of effective stabilization, thus obviating a position such as was found last season and the present one whereby growers are compelled to produce wheat at much less than the cost of production."

INEFFICIENCY IS BLAMED FOR GREAT DEFICIT

Washington, Jan. 5.—"Looseness and inefficiency of conduct" was one of the causes for the $1,213,000 deficit in the operation of the government-owned Alaska Railroad, a special Senate committee appointed to investigate the road's finances, reported today.

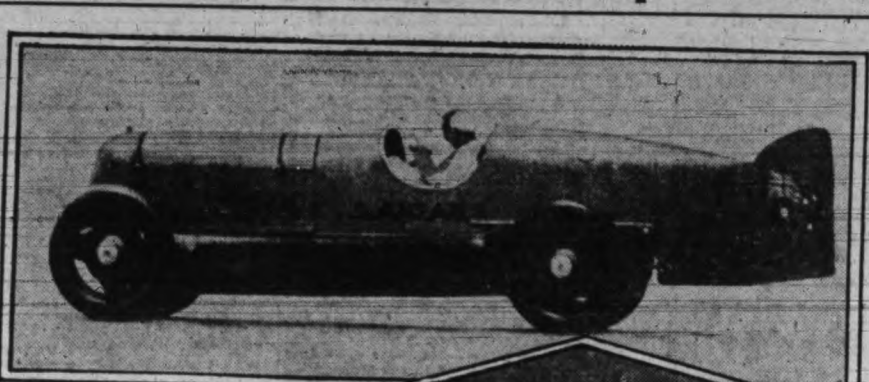

Burness, Republican, North Dakota, to bring before Congress this week a bill for an embargo lasting until March 1, 1932.

A suggestion much more threatening to the interests of Canadian exporters is discovered in the talk of revision of the flexible provisions of the Hamley-Smoot Tariff Act to permit raising of tariff rates on any agricultural product fifty per cent by executive order, without the formality of raising the production costs abroad.

The proposal either to create an embargo or raise the tariff on mill feeds and grain has found the support of Sam E. McKelvie, grain members of the Farm Board.

He pointed out the flexible tariff law required that cost studies be made in those countries whose exports threaten United States markets, and said complaints had reached the board against incoming shipments from South Africa, Argentina and Manchuria.

Will Make Bid For World Auto Speed Record

The eyes of the motor racing world now are fixed on the auto pictured above, which Norman (Wizard) Smith, Australian racer (right) and Don Harkness (extreme right), his mechanic, expect to use in March on the North Auckland Beach in New Zealand in an effort to beat the late Sir Henry Seagrave's record of 231.36 miles an hour. The machine, now being tuned up, has twelve cylinders and is rated at 1,700 horsepower. Smith says he hopes to do at least 300 miles an hour.

FORTY-TWO BRITISH NAVY MEN ON TRIAL

Sailors at Devonport Yard Demonstrated Against Christmas Holiday Reduction

Not Mutiny, Says Admiral; Men's Places on Ship Taken By Others

Canadian Press
Plymouth, Eng., Jan. 5.—Forty-two members of the crew of the Leda, a submarine depot ship of the British navy, were "lodged in naval barracks" today after what is believed to have been a demonstration in protest against curtailed Christmas leave.

While an investigation was being started by the Admiralty the forty-two crew members were replaced so that the Leda might join the Atlantic fleet maneuvers. Officers of the ship and of the Devonport naval station would make no comment regarding the affair other than that it was not a mutiny.

"It can be said at once," remarked Admiral Sir Hubert Brand, commander-in-chief of the Devonport base, "that the use of the word mutiny is not justified."

STAGED PARADE
In Plymouth, however, an unnamed senior was attributed with the statement that about thirty men were arrested during a march to the naval barracks at Devonport because of trouble over Christmas leave and the holiday mail.

The Admiralty at London announced Admiral Sir Hubert Brand would hold an inquiry at Devonport today "into the incidents which have occurred."

The Lucia carries a crew of 362.

WAR PRIZE
The Lucia was one of the first prizes captured from the Germans in the World War. The vessel was built in England for the Hamburg-American Line and named the Spreewald. After the capture in September, 1914, it was converted into a submarine depot ship, with a tonnage of 5,806.

Anxiety Felt For Sidney Fisherman

Special to The Times
Sidney, Jan. 5.—Anxiety is felt here for the safety of M. Baba, a Japanese fisherman, who left on a fishing trip on New Year's Day and has since failed to return home.

Baba resides on Beacon Avenue and has a wife and family.

He left in a seaworthy power boat of the type usually used in fishing operations off the coast.

Search has been made for Baba by the Provincial Police launch from Ganges and by a fleet of Japanese fishing boats.

Baba left here at 10 a.m. on New Year's Day for Moresby Island. He was seen off Coal Island shortly before noon the same day by Sam Fairclough.

Frauds Prevention Act Tested In Court

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Jan. 5.—Constitutionality of the Security Frauds Prevention Act, which was enacted by the British Columbia Legislature last year, is attacked in the British Columbia Supreme Court here in a writ filed by Farris, Farris, Stultz and Sloan against Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General of British Columbia, and Mark Cosgrove, Vancouver barrister.

The plaintiffs are I. W. C. Solloway, Harvey Mills and their employee, William Kennedy McGee, together with the firms of Solloway, Mills (B.C.) Limited and Solloway, Mills and Company Limited.

INJUNCTION ASKED
An injunction enjoining Mr. Pooley and Mr. Cosgrove, who are representing the Attorney-General in a criminal prosecution of Solloway and Mills, will be sought in Supreme Court chambers tomorrow forenoon. The injunction is to restrain the defendants, or anybody acting through them, from inspecting and examining the plaintiffs' books and documents, which are in the custody of the registrar pending determination of the issues involved.

THREE NAMED FOR ISLANDS CONSTITUENCY
Nominating Convention Will Be Held at Ganges on January 14

R. D. Harvey, General Sutton and Col. Foster Reported in Running

The resignation of Colonel Cyrus Peck, V.C., from the B.C. Legislature in which he represented the Gulf Islands constituency, having been received, the date of the Conservative nomination convention has been set for January 14 at Ganges, Salt Spring Island. It is probable three names will be before the meeting.

Colonel Peck's resignation was made necessary through his appointment as a judge of the recently formed Regional Pensions Court. It was formally placed in the hands of Premier Tomin Saturday evening but had been previously anticipated as the date for the nominating convention had been established the previous day.

ASPIRANTS FOR SEAT
The names of R. D. Harvey, Victoria lawyer, and General Frank Sutton, and Lt.-Col. W. W. Foster, both of Vancouver, are mentioned as aspirants for the nomination. Mr. Harvey and General Sutton both have property interests in the Gulf Islands, the former's family being well-known on the Islands for many years. He has come out openly with a statement that he seeks the nomination.

General Frank Sutton, who some years ago was in the limelight as a military adviser in China, has purchased property in the Gulf Islands and frequently visits to the Islands since Colonel Peck's appointment to the Pensions Tribunal indicate he aspires to the nomination.

Colonel Foster at one time represented the Islands in the Legislature and his name is understood to be well received in the Islands constituency as the choice for the nomination although there appears to be some doubt as to whether he will permit his name to go before the convention.

No date has been set for the by-election but it is expected to follow closely on the heels of the nominating convention so that the constituency will not long remain without representation in the Legislature.

U.S. DROUGHT RELIEF

DEATH OF KING'S SISTER IS MOURNED

Louise, Princess Royal, Succumbs in London to Heart Ailment in Sixty-fourth Year

Canadian Press
London, Jan. 5.—All Britain today mourned one of the most democratic of the royal family, Louise, Princess Royal, who died suddenly in her sleep yesterday afternoon of heart disease.

No definite plans for the funeral had been announced to-day, but it was understood the service would be held at the end of this week, probably in St. George's Chapel at Windsor, with burial at the Royal Mausoleum at Frogmore in Windsor.

The King at Sandringham was notified at once of the death of the Princess, the Lord Chamberlain immediately ordering a period of four weeks' full mourning for the British court and the additional weeks of half mourning.

The Princess, who was the eldest sister of the King, was in her sixty-fourth year, being a year and eight months younger than her royal brother.

IN ILL HEALTH FOR YEARS
Her death was not unexpected. She had had recurrent attacks of the heart trouble, and in 1925 she suffered from a serious gastric hemorrhage, although until recently she had been in somewhat better health.

At the age of twenty-two she married the Earl of Fife, a man of excellent lineage but not of royal birth. Two children were born of the marriage, Alexandra Victoria, now thirty-nine years old and wife of Prince Arthur of Connaught, and Maud Alexandra, now thirty-seven and wife of Lord Carnegie. Both were at their mother's bedside when she died.

The title Princess Victoria, conferred by King Edward VII, presumably will pass to Princess Mary, only sister of the Princess of Wales and wife of the Earl of Harewood.

STORMS DELAY PIONEER PLANE ON OCEAN HOP

Trade Wind, New York-to-Paris, With Cargo, at Norfolk, Va.

Canadian Press
Norfolk, Va., Jan. 5.—Unfavorable weather appeared likely today to delay until Wednesday the take-off for Bermuda of the Paris-bound monoplane Trade Wind, piloted by Mrs. Beryl Hart and Lieut. W. S. MacLaren.

Navy officers expressed the opinion the weather would make the flight hazardous to-day or to-morrow, the plane carrying 250 pounds of mail and foodstuffs, the first transatlantic pay load, left New York Saturday for Bermuda, but returned here when the flier missed the island after relying on their instruments for direction.

The route is by way of the Azores to Paris.

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 5.—The monoplane Trade Wind, groomed for a fresh start on the first attempt to fly across the Atlantic with a pay load, swung its anchorage near the Hampton Roads naval air station today, lacking only a sextant and a crew.

The sextant was available, but a $400 deposit on it was not, and the crew had cancelled an early take-off for Bermuda, the first retelling stop, as a result.

Meanwhile citizens of Norfolk who have become interested in the flight were reported to be planning to raise the $400 deposit.

621 WOLVES KILLED
Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Jan. 5.—Wolves totaling 621 were destroyed in Alberta last year, according to the record of the local branch of the Ontario Department of Game and Fisheries, which received the applications for bounty. Timber wolves predominated in the catch and the total of bounties paid was $8,916.

Court Mourning For Princess
His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor this morning received the following message from Ottawa: "The Lord Chamberlain orders court mourning for six weeks from Sunday, the 4th instant, for her late Royal Highness, the Princess Royal; four weeks full mourning and two weeks half mourning. Flags, including all flag stations, to be half-masted on day of funeral."

CHINESE IN CANADA WANT IMMIGRATION BARS RAISED

Toronto, Jan. 5.—In exchange for the proposed opening of Chinese markets to Canadian wheat, the Chinese National League of Canada is urging the Nanking Government to bargain for a change in the present Canadian immigration laws against the Chinese, according to Joseph S. Quan, newly elected president of the league, who was interviewed here.

The present situation between the two countries, he believes, offers an opportunity for the broaching of two proposals long considered by Chinese residents in Canada—that of having the immigration ban eased to allow a certain number of Chinese to enter Canada each year, and the appointment of a Canadian Minister at Nanking, as there is at Tokio.

Constable Captures Two Single-handed Ending Long Chase

J. McKinnon and J. Woods Face Charge of Shooting With Intent to Do Bodily Harm Following Affair on Cormorant Street Early Sunday; Constable C. Belcher Saw Shot Fired Into Hotel Window; Accused Claim Discharge of Gun Was Accidental.

Shots in Chinatown, shattering the quiet of the city early Sunday morning, were followed by a thrilling automobile chase and culminated in the arrest of two men by Constable Claude Belcher.

John McKinnon and John Woods, the pair arrested, were charged jointly in City Court this morning with intent to do grievous bodily harm. After most of the evidence had been entered the case was adjourned until 2.30 o'clock this afternoon.

Witnesses described how an altercation between the two men and the manager of the Station Hotel, Cormorant Street, had been followed by the discharge of a shot from the window of the hotel and the subsequent pursuit.

Details of the chase were given by Constable Belcher, the first prosecution witness. The accused elected summary trial and pleaded not guilty.

SAW SHOT FIRED
Constable Belcher said he was on patrol duty at the corner of Cormorant and Store Streets about 4.10 o'clock Sunday morning, when he noticed two men come out of the Station Hotel. They got into a car and he saw something black stick out of the car window. As he stepped into a doorway the thing was thrown into the car which backed up about ten feet and it was again stuck out. Suddenly it discharged towards the hotel and shattered the window.

"As the car started up I stepped into the middle of the road and called to the driver to stop. The car swerved past me to the right, but I could not get the number. I fired my revolver into the air and the car did stop so I fired two shots at it. The car then turned south on Government Street," he said.

LONG CHASE
"A few seconds later a taxi came by. I hopped aboard and told him to follow the other car. We chased it along Government to Humboldt, then up to Burdett, along Quadra Street to Fort, east to Cook Street, then to Mears Street, along Mears Street to Vancouver Street, through a gas station to Fort Street, round the same block again to Quadra Street and then back into the air and the car did stop so I fired two shots at it. The car then turned south on Government Street," he said.

REQUIEM RITES FOR JOFFRE TO BE HELD HERE

Victoria will officially pay tribute on Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Andrew's Cathedral to the memory of the late Marshal Joffre of France, who will be buried in his native land that day. The service in Victoria will be in the nature of a solemn requiem mass, which will be sung in the presence of church and civic dignitaries, and officials of the army and the navy who have been invited to attend the affair.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor and His Worship the Mayor have signified their intention of being present. Rt. Rev. G. C. Murray, D.D., will be on the altar during the service. Acceptances have also been received from the commanding officers of all the units of the permanent army and navy forces and from the heads of the active militia. Representatives will also be present from all ex-service men's organizations in the city, to whom the memory of "Papa" Joffre will always be a dear one.

RUSSIANS SEEK NEW HOMES IN U.S. AND CANADA

Organization Formed at New York to Send First Group to Mexico

New York, Jan. 5.—A movement to colonize large sections of the United States, Canada and Mexico with thousands of maladjusted Russian and other Slavic farmers and refugees was made known today by the American Slavic Colonization Trust here.

A statement said the trust, chartered here with capital of $35,100,000, would have co-operation of scores of eastern European emigrant societies abroad and in this country.

"The co-operative has set in motion machinery to deposit the first group of agriculturalists in North America in the spring," the statement said.

Fedor S. Manastrov, organizer of Centrosouthern of Russia, is president of the new organization.

A delegation of officials returned to New York from Mexico a few days ago. It was stated, having obtained concessions for settlement from President Ortiz Rubio. Because of the United States immigration restrictions, the first contingent of settlers will be sent to Mexico.

Mr. Manastrov is head of the Slav Mutual Bank of Prague, Czechoslovakia. Prof. V. I. Tereshchenko, commercial engineer and faculty member of the Co-operative Institute, Prague, is vice-president of the trust.

The trust was said to have purchased options on land in Texas for representatives of several United States Slavic Colonization Trust here.

CABINET PLAN FOR NEW INDIA IS SUGGESTED

British Lord Chancellor Advocates Nine Portfolios in Addressing London Conference

Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

London, Jan. 5.—Baron Sankey, Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, submitted to the India Round-Table Conference here today a tentative scheme for a cabinet for the new India. It was not submitted as a formal proposal from the MacDonald Government, but coming from such a source, it was significant.

"How would this sort of thing do?" asked Lord Sankey as a Member of Parliament was addressing the sub-committee on federal structure. Baron Sankey suggested a Governor-General's cabinet with nine portfolios, as follows:

- (1) Finance.
- (2) Law.
- (3) Railways, posts and telegraphs.
- (4) Education, health and lands.
- (5) Industries.
- (6) Commerce.
- (7) Revenue and subjects such as administration of the customs on opium and salt.
- (8) Minor departments, botanical and geological surveys, etc.
- (9) Minister in charge of minor departments not indicated above.

NEW MOVE TO END THE WELSH COAL STRIKE

Miners Ask Government to Arbitrate Dispute on Hours and Wages Question

Secretary of Miners to Hear Owners' Arguments Tomorrow Afternoon

Canadian Press

London, Jan. 5.—South Wales coal miners today asked the government to step in as arbitrator in the labor dispute which has tied up the important Welsh mines and thrown 140,000 men out of work.

Their deputation met Emmanuel Shaw, Secretary for Mines, here this morning, having first seen the Minister.

The miners want the government to induce the mine owners to accept the recommendation of the National Industrial Board for adjustment of the forty-five hour week without reduction in wages.

TALKED WITH PREMIER
After his conversation with the miners' representatives, Mr. Shaw remained in conference with Premier MacDonald for more than an hour.

It was understood the miners had made application to unemployment insurance authorities for unemployment pay for 140,000 men who are out on the grounds that the terms offered by the owners were not in accordance with the provisions of the new Coal Mines Act.

OWNERS INVITED
Mr. Shaw invited the owners to present their side of the case tomorrow afternoon, announcing the union Government would present their side in detail at today's conference.

The miners will remain here to meet the owners if a joint conference seems warranted.

NO TOUR POSTPONEMENT
It was stated on excellent authority this morning that the death of the Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales and Princess George, was scheduled to start their tour January 10.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST
Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Following official announcement from London of the death of the Princess Royal, the Federal Government issued instructions from the Department of the Secretary of State as to the period of mourning in this country and the days when the national flag should be flown at half-mast.

The death is expected to make changes in the plans at Government House for the first two weeks of the tour. The tour was scheduled to start on January 10.

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM
London, Jan. 5.—The Princess Royal, who died of heart disease yesterday, was held in high esteem by the public. Her retiring disposition was noted by many who knew her.

She was the most democratic of royal ladies and on many occasions took rides in buses the other occupants of which were entirely ignorant of the quietly dressed, middle-aged lady who frequently was a sight at the theatre and on many occasions at the theatre and on many occasions at the theatre.

MARRIED AT TWENTY-TWO
Her marriage at the age of twenty-two to the Earl of Fife was the romance of the day. She was a beautiful girl and a great favorite of the public.

THOUGHT IT WAS RACKETEER
When they were arrested the men were under the influence of liquor. They said they thought they were being chased by racketeers," he said.

SHIP WRECK EXPERIENCE
The adventure was when the liner Delhi, carrying the princess and her husband to Egypt, was wrecked at night in a furious gale on rocks near Cape Spartel, ten miles from Tangier.

The princess and her husband reached land with great difficulty and afterward had to remain some hours in a rocky cave until the rocky coast was reached.

REPORTS CONFUSING
The frequency of the name Louise among princesses of the Royal House had caused considerable confusion. It was said that the Princess Royal had been written of the late Princess Louise, who was the grandmother of the Queen Victoria.

THOUSANDS VISIT BIER OF JOFFRE

uttered some as pitiful as those of children. Among them were men with patches on their eyes, some on crutches, some on wooden legs, others without arms and many more showing no trace of other wartime wounds.

The line will continue to pass before the bier until perhaps 10 o'clock this evening, and will be resumed to-morrow. Wednesday, dawn, the bier will be taken out for a final religious and state funeral.

NUMBERED IN THOUSANDS
By early this afternoon more than 10,000 persons had passed by the bier. The crowd swelled as the hours passed, and to a line four or five deep and extending the entire length of the great War School building.

It became evident the popular manifestation of affection for "Papa" Joffre would equal or perhaps surpass those given for the late Marshal Foch and Victor Hugo.

To-day mutilated veterans of the Great War were privileged. They had but to show their cards to be ushered directly to the bier and were not required to submit to the tiring wait in line.

The miners want the government to induce the mine owners to accept the recommendation of the National Industrial Board for adjustment of the forty-five hour week without reduction in wages.

TALKED WITH PREMIER
After his conversation with the miners' representatives, Mr. Shaw remained in conference with Premier MacDonald for more than an hour.

It was understood the miners had made application to unemployment insurance authorities for unemployment pay for 140,000 men who are out on the grounds that the terms offered by the owners were not in accordance with the provisions of the new Coal Mines Act.

OWNERS INVITED
Mr. Shaw invited the owners to present their side of the case tomorrow afternoon, announcing the union Government would present their side in detail at today's conference.

The miners will remain here to meet the owners if a joint conference seems warranted.

NO TOUR POSTPONEMENT
It was stated on excellent authority this morning that the death of the Princess Louise, eldest daughter of the Prince of Wales and Princess George, was scheduled to start their tour January 10.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST
Ottawa, Jan. 5.—Following official announcement from London of the death of the Princess Royal, the Federal Government issued instructions from the Department of the Secretary of State as to the period of mourning in this country and the days when the national flag should be flown at half-mast.

The death is expected to make changes in the plans at Government House for the first two weeks of the tour. The tour was scheduled to start on January 10.

HELD IN HIGH ESTEEM
London, Jan. 5.—The Princess Royal, who died of heart disease yesterday, was held in high esteem by the public. Her retiring disposition was noted by many who knew her.

She was the most democratic of royal ladies and on many occasions took rides in buses the other occupants of which were entirely ignorant of the quietly dressed, middle-aged lady who frequently was a sight at the theatre and on many occasions at the theatre.

MARRIED AT TWENTY-TWO
Her marriage at the age of twenty-two to the Earl of Fife was the romance of the day. She was a beautiful girl and a great favorite of the public.

THOUGHT IT WAS RACKETEER
When they were arrested the men were under the influence of liquor. They said they thought they were being chased by racketeers," he said.

SHIP WRECK EXPERIENCE
The adventure was when the liner Delhi, carrying the princess and her husband to Egypt, was wrecked at night in a furious gale on rocks near Cape Spartel, ten miles from Tangier.

The princess and her husband reached land with great difficulty and afterward had to remain some hours in a rocky cave until the rocky coast was reached.

REPORTS CONFUSING
The frequency of the name Louise among princesses of the Royal House had caused considerable confusion. It was said that the Princess Royal had been written of the late Princess Louise, who was the grandmother of the Queen Victoria.

uttered some as pitiful as those of children. Among them were men with patches on their eyes, some on crutches, some on wooden legs, others without arms and many more showing no trace of other wartime wounds.

The line will continue to pass before the bier until perhaps 10 o'clock this evening, and will be resumed to-morrow. Wednesday, dawn, the bier will be taken out for a final religious and state funeral.

NUMBERED IN THOUSANDS
By early this afternoon more than 10,000 persons had passed by the bier. The crowd swelled as the hours passed, and to a line four or five deep and extending the entire length of the great War School building.

It became evident the popular manifestation of affection for "Papa" Joffre would equal or perhaps surpass those given for the late Marshal Foch and Victor Hugo.

To-day mutilated veterans of the Great War were privileged. They had but to show their cards to be ushered directly to the bier and were not required to submit to the tiring wait in line.

DRY LAW OF U.S. UPHELD BY RULING

Court of Appeal at New York Differs With Judge Clark's Recent Decision

Canadian Press

New York, Jan. 5.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals here held today that the Eighteenth Amendment was constitutionally adopted. It made its ruling in a decision unanimously affirming the conviction of Louis E. Thibault of Windsor, Vermont, accused of possessing and selling two pints of whisky.

The appellate court thus took a contrary view to that expressed in New York, N.Y., recently, by Federal Judge William C. Clegg, who held the Eighteenth Amendment was illegally adopted.

The decision declared the Supreme Court already had decided that the amendment had been lawfully proposed and ratified and had become a part of the constitution and must be respected and given effect the same as the other provisions of that instrument.

SAW MANY PLAYS
The Princess Royal at one time was the most active theatre-goer of the royal family and her advice often was sought by members of the royal circle as to which of the season's plays were really worth seeing.

She was a subscriber to Covent Garden and at her disposal a box facing the royal box. She was a member of the royal family to take an interest in moving picture enterprise. In recent years she had devoted much of her time to philanthropic work.

TITLE PROCEDURE
The Princess Royal was born at Marlborough House, February 20, 1867. She was a favorite of the King and Queen George, as well as with the Queen Mary and her two sisters, Princesses Victoria and Louise. Her husband, King Haakon of Norway, King of Norway, was a close friend of her father, King George.

She was characterized by her sister as her "ministering angel," with reference to her care for the King and Queen. She was a favorite of the King and Queen George, as well as with the Queen Mary and her two sisters, Princesses Victoria and Louise.

CHINESE WIFE IS ALLOWED TO STAY IN VANCOUVER

Immigration Authorities Here Had Ordered the Deportation of Gao Shu Mo-yen on the Ground She Had Entered the Country Illegally

Canadian Press

Vancouver, Jan. 5.—Through the intervention of Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration, the proposed deportation to China of nineteen-year-old Gao Shu Mo-yen, wife of a British Columbia-born Chinese and the mother of a son born in Vancouver six months ago, has been averted. Instructions to this effect have been received.

Immigration authorities here had ordered the deportation of Gao Shu Mo-yen on the ground she had entered the country illegally. In the B.C. Supreme Court Mr. Justice F. B. Gregory upheld the deportation order, but expressed regret he was unable to act otherwise.

DUNNING OUT OF POLITICS ELEVEN KILLED TILL FAMILY SAFEGUARDED; SAYS BUDGET IDEAS WILL WIN BY AVALANCHES

Toronto, Jan. 5.—I found the Hon. Charles A. Dunning, just a few months ago, in the House of Commons, an elegantly appointed and well-known figure in the Toronto Star.

To wit, Montreal, and in the Dominion Square building there, and in the vice-president's office of the Lucerne-in-Quebec Community Association, which controls the career and fosters the welfare of that all-the-year-round forest resort on the Ottawa which out-Lake Placid the famous Lake Placid itself.

"Are you quite convalescent by this time, Mr. Dunning?" I asked this personification of health and energy. "Convalescent?" echoed Mr. Dunning, "what front?"

"From July 26, 1930," was my reply. "Oh, that's easy," replied the statesman whose one and only political defeat came on the date aforesaid. "I mastered the philosophy of defeat and victory long before July 26—but I'll admit the transition from my former job to this one was a rectangular move all right."

"Was the change distasteful?" I ventured to inquire. "Not especially. You see, the path was made easy by the circumstances. For one thing, my wife has wanted out for a good while past. And an honorable exit was clear. If the party had been defeated and I elected, I'd have left behind to stick. If the party had been elected and I defeated, I don't know what I should have done. But, when our defeats-synchronized, my course was reasonably clear."

"I was with Mr. Mackenzie King in his office in the early morning of July 28 when the news came of your defeat. It was evidently a sore touch. I told him myself that it reminded me of King David's refrain: 'On, Abner, my son, my son Abner—' you and the Oxfords and Prince Edward Island seemed to be the triple crown tragedy to the Prime Minister that night," I concluded.

"Mr. Dunning laughed his melodious laugh. 'That's one fine feature about my old leader,' he went on. 'My whole devotion to men and to policies—he has a heart like a hemisphere. And were you really with Mr. King that night?'"

"That was my immeasurable privilege," I answered.

"And I'll bet you the Log Chateau at Lucerne-in-Quebec that he just took the business standing up."

"Exact as a flag-pole," I confirmed. "And, by the way, I was talking to Sir George Perley in that same office, only yesterday. I naturally reminisced—said about what I've said to you. And Sir George said: 'King takes everything standing up whatever he is. King's certainly no quitter.' I'm leaving out Sir George's intonations," he added.

"I know he's handy," retorted the ex-minister, "but there could hardly be a better judge of a good sport than Perley is himself."

"And you're happy at this new job, Mr. Dunning?" I resumed.

"UNABLE TO RELAX. 'It's funny,' Mr. Dunning sort of soliloquized in reply, 'for long years I longed that the killing pressure might be lifted; I thought it would be heaven to be free. But, when the release came, it was well, you know—it was the other place. For twenty years, I had been wishing to get time to read and—

"That's exactly what Mr. King said that night," I broke in. "About 2 friends in talk to his sister in Barrie over the telephone, and that was over his big points: 'I'll get some time to read now,' he said once or twice."

"Just the same with me," chimed the ex-Minister of Finance, "and when the chance came, I found I just simply couldn't read. But Mr. King couldn't find it different. I could easily imagine him in a closet and quite happy. King's a genius—and what's more, although few know it, he's a mystic. A great practical genius and man-of-letters mystic at this or any other country ever produced."

"Might I ask, Mr. Dunning, how you came to take up this particular line of work?"

"Certainly. And I'll tell you. I became a minister of the crown at thirty. I didn't do it by way of competence. That unsolicited condition continued through the years. Two years ago I had a severe and protracted illness. The reflective agony, in terms of my estate and what a terrible, simply terrible. How often, and how vividly, there came back to me the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. It was out in the temporary parliament building on Argyle Avenue, at the beginning of my career, Sir Wilfrid said: 'You are not the path I'm selecting as your path. I'm just a road and a spoke of the very wheel. I've been telling you about—of the humiliated of being 'helped' and all that sort of thing. All came back to me when I was ill. And as a matter of fact, some of the friends in the party approached me about raising what you might call a subsidy for me. But I felt that, if I accepted, something would depart from me more precious than anything that could be given me. So I refused. And then there came to me, too, certain quite flattering offers of positions from other quarters."

"Any of them connected with 'grain'?" I interjected. "Yes—but I declined. You see, my whole previous relation to the farmers of the west had been to profit them. I just could not bring myself to go into any job that would appear to be making money out of them."

"Do you expect, Mr. Dunning, to re-enter political life at some future time?" I inquired.

"That's on the knees of the gods," was the quick reply. "You do know this—that I won't be found in the same again unless I have, what I've never had yet, some reasonable security acquired for my family."

"You agree with R. B. Bennett's view, then, do you?"

"Not in his extreme way. It's desirable for every man in public life to have a little cash. But great wealth is not only not necessary, but it may be a very decided disqualification."

"How big is your western farm, Mr. Dunning?" I inquired, hoping to comfort his sad heart.

"OWNS 640-ACRE FARM. 'Six hundred and forty acres,' was the reply, the figure rather comforting as they fell on the ears of a man who doesn't own half of one. But more was to follow: 'Of course, too, I am vice-president of the Ontario Equitable Life Assurance Company,' added Mr. Dunning."

"I would have taken out a policy with you," I assured him, "if I hadn't found out about those 640 acres. By the way, do you still, as you told me once in Ottawa, love to go back to the acres and stroll over it all and rejoice your soul in fairness, as the psalmist says?"

"You better believe I do," replied the landlord, "and my boy goes with me—and my father, too. My father still writes me about how the water is rising or falling in the creek."

"What do you think of the success or failure of Mr. Bennett's pious crusade in England?" I digressed.

"I shan't disclose," replied Mr. Dunning. "I don't want to rock the boat."

"And what, Mr. Dunning, is your reaction to the Hon. Howard Ferguson as he sings, to the millions across the sea, 'Hold the fort, for I am coming'?" "I won't rock the boat," he replied again.

"Please tell me how you found time, and material, to make your great budget that didn't budget?"

"Lots of fine help, for one thing. That man, W. H. Moore, is an army in himself. All facts were splendidly assembled for me."

"What do you think of your budget now?"

"I think more of it than I ever did before. And after all the static of Mr. Bennett has died down the empire will agree with our basic principle. We won't hear so much of 'we're out for ourselves first,' and we will hear more of how the greatest final national good is wrapped up in mutual international interest. Did you really ever hear of anything like that—going to a council, the soul of which is compromise, and leading off by roaring out to the world: 'I'm here for Canada first?' But there, I mustn't rock the boat."

"Well, then," I conceded, "tell me something about your 'finest business'?"

"Then we were off. The Hon. C. A. Dunning is one of the finest leaders in Canada. Lacking the Salvation Army fluency of our Prime Minister, he has yet a poise, an ease and naturalness, a delicate perception of the tints of words, that mark the great speaker."

"I love the 'Lucerne-in-Quebec' job," began Mr. Dunning. "It is a national cause, as it will be a national glory. It is one of the elements of greatness in Mr. E. W. Beatty, outstanding among sons of Canada, that his imagination takes in the sublime and the idealistic. Beatty kindled the flame of my enthusiasm. He knows the joy of creation—and I am experiencing it. There are no tariff barriers in this grand in the world, that proposes to make those 45,000 acres a garden of delight, of rest, of recreation, of refining inspiration, of national pride."

"Is that your own ambition?" I asked.

"Surely is. And let me say it's just the kind of commercial transaction I enjoy. We have beauty and health, and sport and wild freedom, a kingdom of romance—we have all these to sell but the fun of it is this, that we can sell our commodity and still have it. Do you get that?"

"It will, in the course of years, this Lucerne-in-Quebec become the greatest thing of its kind in the world. And the splendid thing about it is that, through all those years, we will be enjoying it all the time. The thing fairly fascinates me—if a man ever was entranced with a portfolio with more soul to it, or more challenge to the best that's in him, I'd like to know what it is."

French Alps Climbers Caught By Big Snowslides

Grenoble, France, Jan. 5.—Alpine avalanches near here took a toll of eleven French lives over the week-end. Six Frenchmen died as they were engulfed by an avalanche in an Alps pass at the Franco-Italian frontier, not far from Briançon. When a snowslide estimated at from twenty-five to thirty feet high crashed down on them. Theodore Webaux, one of the most prominent cotton manufacturers of Roubaix, his two sons and Henry Bouquet, a member of the French Council of State, were among the six.

Near Moutiers four young skiers from Paris, attempting to climb to Croix des Frettes Pass, 8,500 feet high, are believed to have been overwhelmed by an avalanche. Nothing has been heard from them although they should have been back long ago.

Two Paris students, Robert Jones and Robert Midy, were skiing at a height of 8,000 feet near Abriera when they were caught in an avalanche. Jones managed to extricate himself, but his friend was buried under many feet of snow.

TOMB OF KING IS DISCOVERED IN IRELAND

London, Jan. 5.—The remains of a king and queen, believed by experts to have reigned from 1,800 to 2,000 years ago, have been found on Sheenagh, a mountain near Carrick on the Shannon, Ireland.

The skeletons, lying side by side, said The Sunday London Times, were discovered in a vault the entrance of which was barred by a solid block of dressed masonry weighing more than ten tons. The heads were facing the former royal seat of Tara, where Irish kings were supposedly crowned in pagan days. Historians believe they were members of a dynasty whose origin has been lost in the mists of antiquity.

Further exploration is being carried out as treasure and armor are believed to be concealed in another chamber in the interior of the mountain. The ruins are being guarded night and day by civic guards.

He was born in 1874. Educated at Concorb, India, and Lincoln's College, Oxford, and at one time was an ally of Mahatma Gandhi. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment during the first non-cooperation movement in 1921, but later became an avowed friend of Great Britain and an opponent of civil disobedience.

FLURRY ENDS AT QUEBEC MINE

Canadian Press. Thetford Mines, Que., Jan. 5.—There was peace in the town today at this asbestos mining centre, where on Friday morning about 200 unemployed miners marched on the headquarters of the Asbestos Corporation Limited and demanded the person of Mine Superintendent J. R. Jenkins. On assurance Jenkins would leave the town at once the men quieted down and in a short time the superintendent left on a train bound for Quebec City. The men then dispersed.

It was learned the cause of the unrest was the recent closing down of Beaver Mine, due to lack of orders. For some reason the men thus thrown out of work held Mr. Jenkins responsible. They also accused him of employing foreigners in preference to local French-Canadians.

Passengers were bumped, but only seven required first aid treatment.

GEN. ESCOBAR, MEXICO, HUNTED AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 5.—Authorities searching for General Jose Gonzales Escobar, former Mexican rebel leader, who has been ordered to appear in superior court here Wednesday to answer a writ for annulment brought by his wife living in El Paso, Texas, to-day stated they had failed to locate him but had learned considerable about his movements here. Under the name of J. Derra, it was said, he had lived at three different addresses in Montreal but had made numerous journeys away from the city for long periods. He was believed to have made several trips between Vancouver and Montreal. He came here first from Vancouver in 1929.

Deposits made by General Escobar in Montreal banks have been attached to the extent of $200,000 by court order, following granting of a petition of Mrs. Gioelmer Escobar, who seeks not only annulment of the marriage but disposition of common property of that amount. The petition claims that at the time of his marriage Escobar already had a legal wife.

OLDFIELD GETS ENDORSATION

Ward Three Saanich Meeting Supports Reeve For Re-election

A well attended meeting of residents of Ward Three, Saanich, on Saturday evening unanimously endorsed Reeve H. C. Oldfield for re-election and accorded a similar honor to the councillor for the ward, W. F. Somers. The meeting was conducted by A. G. Lambick, president of the ward ratepayers' association, who was presided by the meeting when he sought to give nominations precedence over the presentation of the councillor's annual report.

R. J. McFarlane of Fernside Road was nominated as candidate for the councillorship by F. V. Hobbs of Cadboro Bay, but the meeting supported Councillor Somers by twenty-six to ten votes. Mr. McFarlane then moved unanimous support be accorded his opponent.

Musical Arts Club To Hear Ira Dilworth

For their opening concert of the new year, the Victoria Musical Art Society has arranged a very delightful programme for to-morrow evening at the Shrine Auditorium. The "Romantic Spirit in Music and Poetry" is the theme on which Ira Dilworth will lecture, and in such able hands this lecture should be one of outstanding interest. He will illustrate his remarks with examples from both music and poetry, devoting special attention to the form in which romantic spirit has taken in contemporary music. For some of his illustrations Mr. Dilworth will use a large electrical, with some very fine orchestral records, and for other illustrations Mrs. T. H. Johns will sing a group of songs, among them being "In the Silence of Night" (Rachmaninoff), "Autumn" and "By the Kiln" (Palmgren), "The Silent Pool" (Debussy) and "Les Cloches" (Debussy). The programme will begin at 8.30, and members' cards and guests tickets can be obtained at the door.

Frances Willard W.C.T.U. — The Frances Willard W.C.T.U. will meet Thursday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. T. Humphries, 2076 Quadra Street.

A MARRIAGE OF CONVENIENCE

THIS modern romance has its inception in the Canned Music Promoter's conviction that he could love anything that would reduce his overhead expense.

You see, if theatre patrons can just be persuaded to accept less than their money's worth in the theatre, this happy couple can prolong their cacophonous honeymoon.

But the music-loving public has failed to bless these nuptials as expected. The Music Defense League is voicing a voluminous protest against the substitution of Canned Music for Living Music in the Theatre. You may add your influence to this great movement by signing and mailing the coupon.

LOCAL TENNIS STAR MARRIED IN CALIFORNIA

Ronald Kirkbride, Former Victorian, Weds Miss Katrina Spaulding

Marriage Solemnized on New Year's Eve at Montecito Church

Victoria friends of Ronald Kirkbride, who lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kirkbride, at "Mount Adelaide," Esquimalt, last summer, will be interested in the following account of his marriage to Miss Katrina Spaulding, of Boston and Santa Barbara, which took place in Santa Barbara on New Year's Eve, the item being from The Morning Press of that city:

"Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kirkbride (Katrina Spaulding) whose marriage yesterday was an important event in California and on the east coast, will return later in the month from their honeymoon. They will occupy Miss Katrina's home on Middle Road until their new home, a gift from the bride's father, William Stuart Spaulding, is completed in the Swift tract in Montecito. The ceremony took place at high noon at All Saints' Church in Montecito, with the Rev. Dr. George Francis Weld, rector of the parish, reading the marriage service.

"A reception and wedding breakfast followed at the Spaulding home, 'Fairleigh,' on San Ysidro Road. The bride and groom and their party received their guests in the drawing room before the fireplace, which had been banked with greenery flanked with marble jars holding yellow chrysanthemums. The rooms were decorated lavishly with flowers and Claudius Perpetua roses.

"The bride's sister, Miss Alice Spaulding, her maid of honor, caught her handsome bride bouquet of white gardenias and lilies of the valley. The bride's gifts to the bridesmaids were strings of jade and crystal beads which they wore with their yellow chiffon frocks. The attendants were Miss Frances and Miss Violet Tuckerman, Miss Martha Ann Hook, Miss Caroline Townsend.

"Others in the wedding party included Malcolm Kirkbride of Harvard, the best man, and the ushers, Henry Davis Minor, Stuart Spaulding, brother of the bride, Francis V. Lloyd Jr., Otis Russell, Henry Culler and Lionel Backer of Victoria, B.C. Mr. Kirkbride presented them with gold fountain pens engraved with their names.

"Receiving with the bride party were members of the family, Mrs. Spaulding, mother of the bride, wore a frock of eggshell satin trimmed in sable. At the wedding she wore also a sable coat and a brown velvet hat. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. John S. Tilney of El Encanto, was crowned in gray with a black maline net. Her wrap was of gray, trimmed with fur.

"Mrs. William Kirkbride, mother of the bridegroom, wore a frock and jacket of eggshell satin, with a small hat of embroidered net. Mrs. Henry P. King of Boston, aunt of the bride, wore a blue-lace gown and a blue hat. Her wrap was of gray squirrel. Another aunt of the bride, Mrs. John T. Spaulding of Boston, was crowned in red chiffon with a hat to match. She wore a sable coat. They all wore corsages of orchids.

"Both Mr. Kirkbride and his young bride are descendants of prominent colonial families of New England and Pennsylvania. The bride is a descendant of Governor Welles of Rhode Island and of Deacon Samuel Chapin of Springfield, Mass. She is the granddaughter of the late Mrs. Sidney Fairleigh of Kenilworth, Ill., who used to be a winter guest at the old Potter.

"Mr. Kirkbride's ancestors included Governor Winthrop of Boston, and William Kirkbride, who came to this country as William Penn's secretary. The bridegroom attended the St. George School in Newport, R.I., and Occidental College.

"Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding, who came out from Boston for the wedding, gave dinner last evening at the Ballroom. They motored south to-day with Miss and Mrs. William Spaulding, Mrs. King, and the young members of the bride's party for the Rose Tournament. They will be guests at the Spaulding bungalow at Vista del Arroyo."

GOV. GENERAL AT WEDDING OF HIS A.D.C.

Miss Helen Guthrie Became Bride of Capt. Victor Blundell Saturday at Guelph

Guelph, Ont., Jan. 5.—Graced by the presence of their Excellencies the Governor-General of Canada and Lady Willingdon, there took place in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Saturday at 2.30 o'clock, a wedding of unusual interest and importance and unequalled in its widespread interest, when Helen K. only daughter of the Hon. and Mrs. Hugh Guthrie, became the bride of Capt. Victor Blundell, Scots Guards, London, England, former aide to Viscount Willingdon. Seldom has there been gathered together in this city a more brilliant assemblage of noted Canadian men and women than was present at the beautiful ceremony.

Before an altar beamed high with ferns and palms, the deep green lighted with tall standards of pale pink and white chrysanthemums, the bridal party took up position. The ceremony was conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. D. H. Marshall, assisted by two former pastors, Rev. Dr. Thomas Allan, M.A., D.D., principal of Knox Theological College, Toronto, and Rev. H. E. Abraham, pastor of Bedford Park Presbyterian Church, Toronto.

The bride was attended by Miss Betty Drew of Guelph, Mrs. J. P. Graham of Pittsburgh and Miss Amy Grace Howitt of Guelph, as bridesmaids; Mrs. Henry Olt of Ottawa, as matron of honor; Miss Margaret Patricia Greene of Ottawa, as flower girl, and Master David Milner of Toronto, as page. Captain R. M. Brinkman, A.D.C., acted as best man and Mr. J. H. Streetfield, A.D.C., Mr. Eric Melville of Ottawa, Mr. George Guthrie of Ottawa, Lt.-Col. George Drew of Toronto and Mr. Charles Guthrie, brother of the bride.

Capt. and Mrs. Blundell left for New York, from which port, after a short stay there, they will sail for Paris and London. The bride traveled in a Channel-ensemble of dark brown cloth trimmed with beige fox collar, brown crepe dress and small brown felt hat. They will reside in London, England.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches and societies yesterday. The golden text was from Isaiah xii 2, "Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid."

One of the scriptural texts contained in the lesson-lesson was "The name of the Lord is a strong tower; the righteous runneth into it, and is safe" (Proverbs xviii 10).

Following the reading of the Bible texts, passages were also read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage being the following from page 424: "Accidents are unknown to God, or immortal mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one mind in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

Business Women's Club.—The Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the headquarters, 1118 Langley Street. As this will be the last meeting before the annual, and important business will come up for discussion, all members are urged to attend.

Chicago Black Hawks Continue To Slip Back In N.H.L. Race

THE SPORTS MIRROR Lose Their Second Straight Game to Detroit Falcons

P.C.H.L. Clubs Must Be Playing Fine Brand of Hockey

Lester Patrick Gathers Together Regular Clan of Coast Stars

Brand of Hockey in U.S. Colleges Has Improved Rapidly

Rumors Heard of Possible Changes in Golf Rules This Year

TEAMS in the Pacific Coast Hockey League must be playing a brand of hockey that compares with the best outside of the National Hockey League. If the success of players from the P.C.H.L. in the big-time circuit is any criterion.

Now comes the announcement that Lester Patrick, former member of the Victoria Cubs, and this season with the disbanded Tacoma Tigers, has been sold to the New York Rangers, and Sammy McAdam of the Vancouver Lions may also go. Kenny was a big hit with local fans and with a little seasoning should go over big in New York. He is a powerful fellow, who can hold his own in the roughest company. McAdam always showed up as a clever stick handler and is a smart man at getting goals. If he goes to New York he has a good chance of catching a berth.

With Joe McGoldrick, Portland defenseman, already sold to the Rangers, Lester Patrick will have four Pacific Coast League players on his roster next winter, providing he keeps them all. At present he has obtained Lester Patrick, Kenny, McGoldrick and Joe Jervis. In the recent game between the Rangers and Boston at New York former P.C.H.L. players were the bright lights. Joe Jervis scored two brilliant goals for the Gotham club within a few seconds of each other, while "Red" Boucher, another former member of the Vancouver Lions, netted the winning goal for Boston in the overtime. Beattie has been a sensation with the Bruins, scoring on an average a goal a game ever since he joined Art Ross's club. Before the end of the present season it is quite possible several other Coast League players will join N.H.L. clubs to swell the list of players already supplied the big league.

That the brand of hockey played in United States colleges is rapidly improving is demonstrated by the 5 to 1 defeat of the University of California team on Friday evening by the undefeated hockey team of Harvard University. It was not so many years ago that Canadian college teams could step across the border and skate to easy victories. Victory by the American colleges was thought almost a possibility.

Down in Tulsa, Duke Keats, former member of the Edmonton Eskimos, and a well-known figure to local sports fans, has been up to his old tricks again. Keats is minus fifty hard-earned dollars for his part in a scrap which followed a recent game between the Oilers and Kansas City in the American League. The venerable Duke, aged and wise in the ways of hockey players, was one of the leading players in a swinging bout in which a woman spectator was struck by a stray stick. Not so many years ago, when Keats was playing for the Chicago Black Hawks, he was mixed up in a somewhat similar case, that brought down the ire of the owner, Major McLaughlin, upon him. The Duke drifted to the American loop, now an outlaw circuit, where his knowledge of the game still makes him a valuable player.

Word comes from St. Andrews, Scotland, that the Royal and Ancient, at its spring meeting, will probably legislate in regard to more than one change in the rules. The result will be awaited with great interest in Canada, as elsewhere. It is some years now since any important change has been made in the book of rules.

It is understood that the stymie will not be discarded again, although its opponents may make an attempt to reopen the question. There is no doubt that a great many players would like to see the stymie abolished. It is an irritating imp which has decided, and decided unfairly, so its opponents claim, many a major event.

Hawks' Early Season String of Victories Now Appears as Flash in the Pan; Montreal Maroons Take Leadership in Canadian Section by Thrilling Victory Over Boston; Toronto Turns Back Canadiens in Game Featured by Brilliant Goal-tending of Lorne Chabot; Ottawa Breaks Losing Streak at Expense of Lowly Philadelphia.

Canadian Press

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 5.—Four clubs in the Canadian group of the National Hockey League were victorious in the week-end schedule of five games.

Montreal Maroons snatched the Canadian Division leadership from their intra-city rivals, Canadiens, by scoring a surprise win over Boston, leaders of the United States Division, 5 to 3. The Canadiens were the only senior group team to lose. They clashed with Toronto Maple Leafs and finished on the short end of a 2 to 1 count, and are now deadlocked with the Leafs for second place honors. New York Americans kept within striking distance of Toronto and the Flying Frenchmen by registering an easy 5 to 0 victory over Philadelphia Sunday, and are only one point from the second.

There is no doubt that a great many players would like to see the stymie abolished. It is an irritating imp which has decided, and decided unfairly, so its opponents claim, many a major event.

Second Test Match Between England And S.A. Is Drawn

Capetown, South Africa, Jan. 5.—The second test match between England and South Africa was left drawn to-day, as the four days allotted to the game ended with the game incomplete. The scores were: South Africa, first innings, 513; England, first innings, 350; second innings, 252.

South Africa won the first match.

With five second innings wickets down and only seven runs on the score board West Indies continued their impossible task to-day. Rain fell during the night and after a hot sun had shown on the wicket this morning it was impossible to find a fellow who is quickly cleaned up the balance of the West Indies, only twenty-three runs being added, from among taking three wickets for H. Hurwood, who bowled so well on Saturday, had an average of four wickets for 22. Grant, the West Indies captain, has made a fine showing in the tests. Out of three times at the wicket he has only been out once.

West Indies were unlucky in being without the help of Bartlett, who broke a finger.

West Indies, second innings—Roach, c Kippax b McComb, 25; Bartlett, c McCabe b Hurwood, 10; Headley, c Jackson b Hurwood, 2; Martin, c McCabe b Hurwood, 0; Constantine, b Hurwood, 8; Grant, not out, 15; Barrow, c McCabe b Hurwood, 10; Griffith, b b Grimmett, 0; Francis, c Oldfield b Ironmonger, 0; Scott, c Woodfull b Ironmonger, 17; Extras, 8.

Total, 90.

Bartlett, retired, hurt.

Harvey, regarded as one of the most effective of England's bowlers, meets Viscount Duncanson in the feature twelve-round bout on Madison Square Garden's card Friday night.

Harvey has compiled an imposing record in ten years of fighting abroad. His handlers say he has been beaten only once in 350 engagements. Duncanson, a brother of the former welterweight champion, is an efficient workman, especially at close quarters, and should extend the Englishman to the limit.

Brother of the former welterweight champion, engaged Joe Anderson of Corvallis, Ky., in the ten-round semi-final and Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., former featherweight titleholder, encounters Jack Portnoy, Baltimore lightweight, in the opening ten-round bout.

The junior lightweight crown will be at stake at Philadelphia to-night when Dave Shade, hardy middleweight veteran, encounters Jack Portnoy, Baltimore lightweight, in the opening ten-round bout.

Portnoy, who won at home by 3 to 1 in the presence of 12,000 people, a simple netted for the Londoners early but was off-side. Watkins gave him a lead which Finch almost increased just before half-time. The rising star prevented the interval being taken. Fulham resumed strongly, Watkins, Haley and Temple all having scored cleverly saved. Temple received a reward for his persistence when he netted a snappy from Finch's corner.

Two minutes later the same player again scored, but Andrews immediately replied for more.

Playing like demons in the last fifteen minutes Darlington changed apparent, defeat into the victory over Nelson in a northern section match of the Third Division. Nelson deserved to win on the play as a whole. Rules.

Joe Brown pulled a fast one to-day. He said he lost 220 pounds from playing golf. When I called him a fibber he hastened to explain, 'My wife left me.'

Backfield Stars In Victory Over Varsity Squad

Victoria Regains Lead In Series By Fine 8-Victory

Three-quarters Play Smart Game Against Bert Barratt's Flashy U.B.C. Rugby Fifteen; Pete Turgoose and Campbell Forbes Score on Brainy Breaks in Second Half; Splendid Exhibition of Blocking and Tackling Given; Locals' Airtight Defence Holds Out Snappy Students' Attack.

Turning in a game the like of which Victoria's backfield has not played for the last two seasons, the Capital City "reps" sent Bert Barratt's fast squad of blue-and-gold Varsity rugbys down so an 8 to 0 defeat at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday and went into a tie with Vancouver for the leadership of the McKeechie Cup rugby series. Forced to battle all the way against the smoothly working machine the students brought over, the locals scored on two splendid breaks well on in the second half, while their defence, playing an airtight game against the dazzling three-quarter attacks of the visitors, held firm up to the final whistle. For an exhibition of tackling and blocking the fixture ranks second to none seen on a Victoria field this year.

Young Stribling to Be Placed at Head of List; Other Champions Named

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Early returns from the National Boxing Association's mail vote on a proposal to oust Max Schmeling as heavyweight champion, indicate the German will be without a title as far as the N.B.A. is concerned.

TWO REASONS WHY VICTORIA "REPS" DEFEATED VARSITY'S FAST SQUAD

CAMPBELL FORBES PETE TURGOOSE
Fast thinking and running by these two backfield men accounted for Victoria's two tries against the U.B.C. squad in the spectacular McKeechie Cup rugby game on Saturday. Turgoose smashed through for the first try which Forbes converted. The latter ran away from the blue-and-gold boys on a splendid break to score the other points.

CLASSY BACKS GIVE COLLEGE FINE VICTORY

Score 8 to 0 Win Over Varsity Second Division Rugbys in Exhibition Game

McInnes, Fullback, and Chuck Copeland, Score Tries on Smart Plays

Brilliant backfield play spelled out victory for Victoria College's crack intermediate rugby champions over the Varsity second team in the preliminary game to the McKeechie Cup match at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday and gave the local boys an 8 to 0 win over the hitherto undefeated U.B.C. squad. Combining better than they have done for some time, the local students showed flashes of play that, equalled any seen in the senior division and smashed through the visiting squad with splendid rallies in the first half. The Vancouver squad, minus its outstanding inside three-quarters, failed to display their reputed speed on the attack and left most of their three-quarter runs stranded in the five-eighths division.

Roddy McInnes, brainy college fullback, pulled the famous "Nepie" trick with variations to give the locals their first try. Boorman converted. Copeland, the Vancouver boy attempted the other touchdown after one of the prettiest pieces of three-quarter work seen during the day.

Varsity held in the second half and several times threatened the Victoria line, but failed to make their attacks count.

TRICKY TRY
Pressing from the start the Collegians forced play into Varsity's end. A few minutes after the opening whistle McInnes kicked high and followed up on his punt. He blocked Derry Tye when the Vancouver boy attempted to clear and fell on the ball for the first score.

After several nice three-quarter plays later in the half, Robinson secured just outside the visitors' twenty-five and threw to Boorman. Boorman gained ground and passed to Copeland on the wing. The latter streaked for the line and did across just as he was tackled.

In the second half Varsity had its fair share of play, several times threatening the Victoria line with individual runs. Nesbitt, playing on the wing, turned in a good performance, while the Vancouver students' scrum worked hard throughout.

Alford refereed and the teams followed:
Victoria College—McInnes, Maboe, Miller, Robinson, Moyes, Beatty, Boorman, Selvers, Walton, Colgate, Daskin and Crothall.
Varsity—Tye, Nesbitt, Henderson, Hanbury, Dalton, Patrick, Calland, K. Mercer, R. Brown, Grant, Burns, Hedley, Senkler and Rutlan.

MANY TIED FOR SECOND
Three others finished with 65 yesterday in a tie for third place with Saturday's three low scores. The first day performers were seriously handicapped by a strong wind which swept over the course from the ocean during the afternoon to play have with golf's new "balloon" ball.

In the second place, Smith finished with a 68 for the best individual card of the day. This matched evenly with those of Walter Hagen, Detroit, and Leo Diegel, Aqua Caliente, Saturday who shot 68s in the wind. The best Diegel could get in the tournament, however, was a tie for third with five others, while Hagen finished in a nine-way tie for fourth with 67.

The tournament served as a prelude for the Los Angeles 100,000 open which starts with a qualifying round Wednesday over six scattered courses. One hundred of these players along with forty exempt, will start championship play Thursday.

SWINDLERS CAUSE MAN TO END LIFE

J. T. Quinn Shoots Himself in Toronto After Being Fleeced
By Vancouver Pair

Canadian Press
Toronto, Jan. 4.—Information received by local authorities from provincial police of Alberta indicates John T. Quinn, twenty-six, found shot to death in a lane here Saturday, had been robbed by confidence men in Vancouver of $1,200.

Police investigating the circumstances surrounding Quinn's death, believe he had been despondent over the loss of his money to the Pacific coast swindlers, and that he had turned the gun on himself.

A telegram was found in the dead man's effects signed "P. F. Ellis," and instructing him to stop at the Toronto Hotel, where he was registered.

Ellis was the name used by one of a pair of confidence men who recently fleeced a German war veteran of several thousand dollars in Vancouver. The latter was also instructed to stay at a local hotel until a certain horse won, and the pair would collect the winnings and come east to share them with him as he had provided the capital allegedly wagered.

Robber Escapes With Hotel Money

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—While the night clerk, sole occupant of the Corona Hotel office here, left his post for a few minutes early Sunday morning, a robber looted the hotel's unlocked safe and escaped with $800 in cash. The money was missing when the clerk returned from an errand to another part of the hotel.

Police, lacking a description of the thief, are without a clue to the robbery.

Famous Island Puzzles

A LAND IN TEN PIECES

To-day we start a puzzle series which I hope will give the Correspondents plenty of fun, and also a bit of profit.

Before you are an island. You may not be able to tell it
offhand, but there is one just the same. The island has been cut
up into ten pieces,
and the idea is to put them together
so that you have the proper form.

To solve the puzzle it will help to know the island's name. Here are several hints.

The island is 105
miles long and
thirty-seven miles wide. On its northern side is the Atlantic Ocean, and to the south it faces the Caribbean Sea.

Several times this island has been struck by terrible hurricanes; but except for such danger, it is a fairly pleasant place to live. In winter the weather is mild, and summer days are warm and the mercury above 100 degrees.

The island belongs to the United States, having been taken from Spain in 1898. It is the home of 1,800,000 persons. Most of them are of Spanish descent. A large number of negroes live there.

If you cannot guess the name from what I have said, you will probably do so after looking at a map of the Caribbean Sea region.

The next step is to cut out the pieces and try to fit them together. I suggest that you first clip the entire group of pieces, and paste on thin cardboard.
A used government post card will serve very well. Then cut each piece close around the edge.

Be sure that the paste holds the pieces firmly on the cardboard. Always spread the paste thinly, to avoid lumps.

The best step is to fit the pieces where they belong. The letters on the pieces will help you if you have guessed the right name and know the spelling.

After solving the puzzle, members of the scrapbook club may place the picture in the space left when the pieces were cut away from the article.

This article was placed in the "Travel" section of the scrapbook.

To-morrow—A Pineapple Paradise.

Acute Intestinal Obstruction Needs Immediate Attention

By DR. MORRIS FISHEIN

Whereas almost everyone is conversant with the symptoms of constipation, whether acute or chronic, few people realize the great seriousness of the condition known as acute intestinal obstruction.

This condition results from some serious interference with the blood supply or the nerve supply to the intestine, causing the stopping of the passage of material from the intestines.

In fifty-six cases reported by one investigator, there were twenty-four deaths and in the records of practically all observers the mortality is high. In the vast majority of cases the reason for the mortality appears to be the delayed consultation of competent advice and the delay in diagnosis of the condition.

In practically every case there is severe pain in the abdomen, usually coming in paroxysms and sufficiently frequent to prostrate the patient. Not infrequently there is a gurgling in the intestine and the absorption of toxic material brings about all the symptoms of severe poisoning. There is further vomiting, there is a distention with the pain, and the pouring out of the body of a large amount of fluid results in acidosis.

In many instances the onset of acute intestinal obstruction is like an attack of severe peritonitis. The physician who studies the case can tell from the nature of the onset of the disease, the relationship of the symptoms and the progress of the condition what is going on inside the abdomen. If the condition is not so serious when first seen, a delayed and immediate operation, it is possible to study the case by the use of the X-ray, which the average person needs to know in order to prevent much of the serious mortality from this disease is the fact that the occurrence of severe paroxysms accompanied by prostration, vomiting and a general depression, should demand immediate medical attention. Any delay increases the likelihood of fatality.

BRITISH PLAY AT DOMINION IS WELL CAST

Fine Cast of English Players
Appear in "Alf's Button"
Here Until To-morrow

Fun, fantasy and spectacle abound in "Alf's Button," the Gaumont-British all-talking production that began its three-day engagement at the Dominion Theatre Saturday. In fact, "Alf's Button," is one of the most elaborate and hilarious pictures ever seen. Its entertainment value is the highest, for it pleases those who want comedy, those who want romance and those who like grandeur.

Alf, of the title, is a comical, lovable British Tommy and the button that causes all the excitement possesses a magic power because it was once Aladdin's lamp. When he rubs it the famous slave of the lamp appears and fulfills his every command. Alf comes into possession of the button back of the lines in France when he is handed out a new tunic. Alf sets about to how he meets the Djinn, who at once complies with Alf's wish for a palace in Blighty for him and his soldier pal, Bill.

Thrilling Drama At the Playhouse With Noah Beery

"Renegades" Is Startling and Breathless Picture of French
Foreign Legion

With stark drama worthy of Eugene O'Neill at his best, "Renegades," the Fox movie feature at the Playhouse Theatre is one of the most gripping and entertaining talkies this reviewer has seen in many months. The finest picture of the French Foreign Legion to reach the speaking screen, "Renegades," has much to recommend it. The notable performance of Warner Baxter in the leading role is a revelation to those whose admiration for this fine actor has heretofore revolved around his impersonations of dashing bandits in the old southwest.

Noah Beery, George Cooper and Gregory Gave are a contrasting but delightful trio. Baxter's carefree and dashing comrades in his adventures and misadventures and C. Henry Gordon, a new-comer to the talkies, is thoroughly convincing as the legion officer.

Beautiful Scenes Taken Underwater For Columbia Film

"Murder Will Out" Has Many Unusual Sea Sequences
Taken Off California Coast

Unusually beautiful water scenes are among the many unique features of "Murder Will Out," First National Vitaphone production, which is the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre.

The water "shots" were taken at San Pedro, California, from a speedboat, a yacht, and a submarine, all of which figure in the plot of the Will Jenkins murder-mystery travesty.

Jack Mulhall is the featured player in "Murder Will Out." The supporting cast includes Lila Lee, Noah Beery, Malcolm MacGregor, Tully Marshall, Claude Rains, Hedda Hopper, Alec B. Francis, Clarence Badger directed.

"MADAM SATAN" AT CAPITOL WITH DENNY

Popular Players Have Leading Roles in Great Cecil B. de
Mille Success

Years ago Cecil B. de Mille gained an international reputation for the extravagant costuming and investiture of his film plays, and this afternoon in "Madam Satan," a M-G-M comedy with music, he again justified his fame at the Capitol Theatre.

From the moment "Madam Satan" opens there is not a respite in the parade of gorgeous costumes, novel dance ballets and successive thrills. By the time a masked ball on a Zepplin is interrupted by a mid-air collision of the big craft, and descent of the variously garbed guests via parachute, members of the audience are at the edges of their seats, wondering "what's next?"

Kay Johnson and Reginald Denny, the leads, acquit themselves splendidly in the acting and singing departments. "Today is Your Day," that you will hear twice whistling Miss Johnson's "Live and Love To-day," or Denny's "This Is Love" and "All I Know Is You Are in My Arms." And perhaps the hottest and newest jazz dances is "Lowdown," danced by the entire company just before the disaster to the Zeppelin.

Russian Names Are Given Players In Coliseum Feature

Russian Endings of Names
Explained When Directors
Filmed "The Virtuous Sin"

Why so many Russian names end in "ovich" and "ovna," was revealed through the production of a drama with Russian background. Paramount began filming "The Virtuous Sin," which will screen as a new dialogue attraction to-day at the Coliseum Theatre.

In explaining Kay Francis's role of "Marya Ivanova," technical advisers related that Ivanova means merely "daughter of Ivan."

Ivanovitch means "son of Ivan." Of course this process is dropped as soon as it attains the importance of being a family name, for by following this tradition down even a few generations, a painful confusion would ensue.

Tiger Turns Killer On Anniversary Of His First Killing

Paris, Jan. 5.—A royal Bengal tiger in a circus, entering at Miramont-en-Guyenne took a savage revenge for the second time since he has been in captivity upon the men who robbed him of his freedom. On the anniversary of the day two years ago when he clawed his trainer, M. G. Mall, to death during a circus tour of Spain, he killed his new trainer, M. Warnieck.

Warnieck had sworn to master the animal, one of a group of six Indian and Siberian tigers, noted for their beauty and ferocity, after the royal Bengal had killed Moller, his friend.

He made good his boast and for two years has been putting the royal Bengal through his paces before circus audiences. But although the jungle animal appeared safely under Warnieck's domination, he never entirely forgot the taste of human blood.

With a trainer's superstition Warnieck believed that he must not fall to face the royal Bengal on the anniversary of Moller's tragedy. So the other day, although the tigers were not in active training, he determined to put them through their routine of tricks.

Under the anxious eyes of the other circus people upon him he entered the cage of the growling beasts, and snapping his whip, sent them into a corner. All except one of them—the royal Bengal. That animal crouched and then leaped for the trainer's head, blinding the man with one swipe of his claws. In a flash all six tigers were upon Warnieck, and before his friends could intervene, had torn him to pieces.

Everything That Can Be Done We Do to Make the Tired Business Man Happy and Comfortable After His Day's Labor—But What of the Tired Business Woman, and the Tired Wife and Mother?

WE ARE always talking about the tired business man. Indeed, he may be said to be almost our national hero, our favorite fair-haired child on whom we lavish tons of sympathy and whom we do our best to divert and amuse. Thrilling yet simple books that will not call for too much mental effort are especially written for him to read. Games are devised for his diversion. Papers and magazines filled with horseplay humor attempt to win a smile from him. Pulchritudinous and naked-girl shows are put on at the theatre for his behoof and benefit. Wives are urged to pet and coddle him and make things pleasant for him and never to burden him with their own insignificant worries and troubles.

But nobody ever mentions the tired business woman. Nobody hands her out a word of sympathy. Nobody does anything to cheer her up. Nobody feels that she needs to be brightened up and have her mind taken off her labors. No low-browed books and papers are gotten out especially to appeal to her fatigued brain. No shows of shilly youths cavort and cut up on the stage for her recreation. Nor are husbands ever urged to remember what a tiring day their wives have had and to put on their tuxedos of an evening and hand wife out a bright and sparkling line of conversation.

This distinction that we make between the working man and the working woman is the more curious because men, as a rule, are physically stronger and far more able to labor than women are and because nature better fitted them for the job than it did women and because the stress and strain of business does not take such a toll of their emotions and nerves as it does of women's.

You would think that if any one were going to be babied and pitted and catered to it would be the tired business woman. But not so. It is men who get all the breaks and all the consideration.

It starts in the home. Look at the way mothers treat their sons and daughters when they start out to work. John may be a double-fisted, husky lad with muscle enough to knock a bull down. Mary may be a frail and anemic creature who is nothing but a bunch of nerves. The son of his day's work leaves John just raring to go play football or golf or do something amusing on which he can spend his surplus energy. The end of the day's work leaves Mary utterly exhausted.

Nevertheless, when John and Mary come home, mother importunes John to sit in the easiest chair and rest himself and smoke a cigarette and she would never dream of such a thing as asking the poor, tired boy to do any chores around the house. But she expects Mary to hustle into a bungalow apron to help get the dinner and wash up the dishes afterward and lend a hand with taking care of the younger children and finishing up the ironing.

And mother thinks that John has a perfect right to spend all he makes, barring perhaps a little irregularly paid board, because the poor, dear boy needs some diversion after his hard work, but she thinks that all that Mary earns belongs to the family and that Mary doesn't need any livelier amusement than sitting at home of an evening with her parents.

Furthermore, as every working girl knows from her own experience, this same popular notion about it being so much less fatiguing to women to work than it is to men prevails everywhere. Aunt Sally, for instance, wouldn't dream of writing to her nephew and asking him to stop on his way down town and match a spool of silk. Nor would Sister Susan expect her brother to put in his Saturday afternoon holiday taking care of her children while she went to the matinee. And no one would expect a hard-working business man to sit up half the night helping to make over an old dress.

But Aunt Sally doesn't hesitate to ask her niece, who is a hard-working private secretary, to do her shopping for her. Sister Susan dumps her brats on her whenever she wants to go off and she would be considered a crabbed old maid if she didn't help nurse the sick and aid with the family sewing.

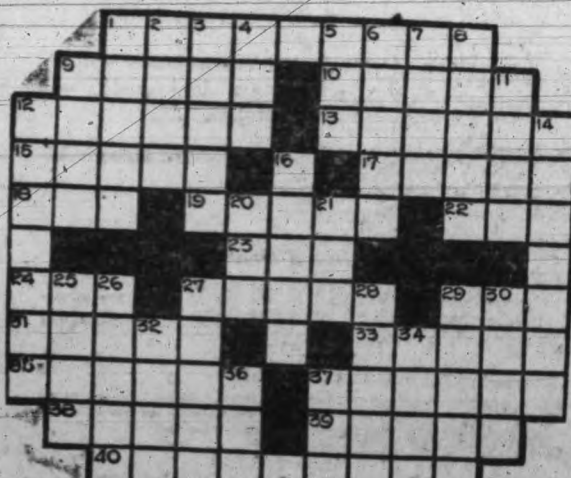

Worst of all and most unjust of all, this sympathy and consideration that is so lavishly bestowed upon the tired business man is never extended to the housewife, though she is the hardest-worked laborer on earth. For her are no union hours, no holidays, not even a Saturday afternoon and Sunday off. Her work is never-ending, for when mother stops the fire doesn't burn and the stove doesn't cook and the floors are not swept and the beds are not made and everything is miserable and uncomfortable.

Still, the wife and mother is supposed to have a perfect snap of a job, and you often hear the tired business man say to her: "Gosh, I wish I had things as you have and I didn't have anything to do but to stay at home and keep house and take care of the children." Yet one single solitary afternoon of doing a small part of what his wife does every day reduces him to a wreck, physically and mentally.

And still he believes that his wife never wearies of cooking and taking care of babies and that there is no use in taking her out to the movies in the evening because he never thinks of her as a tired business woman and that she needs amusement just as much as the tired business man does.

Parthenia and Texada in To-day; Kinderdyk Expected To-morrow From Europe

Empress of Canada and President Grant Due Towards End of Week From the Orient

From ports in the United Kingdom, by way of the Panama Canal and California ports, the Donaldson freighter Parthenia arrived at the William Head quarantine station yesterday afternoon and was expected to dock alongside the Rithet piers at 3 o'clock. After discharging about seventy-five tons of general cargo here she will proceed to Vancouver early this evening. The Parthenia left San Francisco on Friday afternoon.

With a small cargo for discharge here, the Kingsley freighter Texada of San Francisco docked at the Ogden Point piers this morning at 4 o'clock from California ports. After completing business here the ship proceeded to Vancouver at 6 o'clock. Ted King, of King Brothers Limited, local agent, handled the Texada while she was here.

Bound for Victoria and Vancouver on the last leg of her thirty-day voyage from Europe, the Holland-America freighter Kinderdyk sailed from San Francisco on Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. and is expected to arrive in Victoria this morning at 10 a.m. The ship, local agent. This time should bring the ship to Victoria sometime to-morrow afternoon. For Victoria she has 150 tons of general cargo, and before proceeding to Vancouver to complete her voyage fifty tons of general cargo will be loaded aboard here for the return voyage to Europe.

Outbound liners this week include the Canadian-Australia motorship Aorangi and the American Mail liner President McKinley. The Aorangi will sail from the Rithet piers on Wednesday evening bound from Vancouver to Honolulu, Suva, Auckland and Sydney. The President McKinley will be here on a short time Saturday afternoon on her way from Seattle to ports in Japan, China and the Philippine Islands.

The C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah is alongside the Belleville Street dock in the inner harbor loading general cargo for northern British Columbia and Alaska ports. She will sail from this port on Wednesday afternoon and depart from Vancouver at 9 o'clock Thursday evening on her return voyage to the North. She will take out a capacity cargo of lumber and other goods, and an average passenger list for this time of the year.

Passenger liners that will dock here this week include the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada and the American Mail liner President Grant, both of which are due here on Friday from ports in the Philippine Islands, China and Japan. Although no times of arrival have yet been received here, it is expected the Empress of Canada will be here in the morning and the Grant in the early evening. From here the Canada will proceed to Vancouver and the Grant to Seattle.

NEW ZEALAND AUSTRALIA

At the opening of this century, gold and coal were the only two large items of Canada's mineral production. Today the Dominion mining industry owes its magnitude not only to coal and gold, but to copper, nickel, lead, silver, zinc, asbestos, and in short, to perhaps as wide a diversity of resources as any country affords to mining enterprise.

NORTH AMERICAN GOLD

Ten years ago the gold output of the United States was three times as great as that of Canada. To-day chiefly owing to the increase in Canada, the two countries produce almost equal quantities.

MUTINY ABOARD
U.S. FREIGHTER IN BLACK SEA

Istanbul, Turkey, Jan. 5.—A mutiny in the crew of the United States freighter Hopatcong was disclosed today when she reached here from Odessa with her captain wounded and her crew missing.

The crew deserted at Istanbul and the officers navigated the ship here from the Black Sea port.

She put into Odessa with a cargo of machinery from New York, and the crew went ashore after the cargo was unloaded.

When they came back they piled aboard, shouting they had turned Communist. Roaring into the skipper's cabin, they knifed Captain Bergsten and scrambled off the ship.

Bergsten spent ten days in a hospital and when he was discharged he and his officers brought the ship here and collected a Turkish crew. They will sail for New York to-night.

Dutch Motorship Tabian Will Give Service Between Vancouver and India

Vancouver, Jan. 5.—The Vancouver Harbor Board officially welcomed in the ship's first arrival in the port, and the start of the service of the Silver-Java Pacific Line to Malay States and India. Those at the luncheon included Mr. McCloy, chairman, presented Captain P. J. Bakker with a handsome plaque, in commemoration of the ship's first arrival in the port, and the start of the service of the Silver-Java Pacific Line to Malay States and India. Those at the luncheon included Mr. McCloy, chairman, presented Captain P. J. Bakker with a handsome plaque, in commemoration of the ship's first arrival in the port, and the start of the service of the Silver-Java Pacific Line to Malay States and India.

On Friday officers of the ship and Dingwall Gots & Co., the agent, entertained a party of exporters at luncheon on board the vessel as she lay at her berth at Ballantyne Pier, F. J. Pickett, agent for Dingwall Gots & Co., outlined the possibilities of the Indian market, to manufacturers of British Columbia, and voiced the expectation that the new line would soon develop a very satisfactory trade.

Captain Bakker has had a wide experience in India and Straits Settlements. The company will give monthly sailings from here, under joint agreement with the British "Silver" Line, and Silver ships and vessels of the Java-Pacetic Dutch Line will alternate on the run.

An unusual feature of the luncheon on board was the silent and efficient service of the Japanese mess boys. The ship is provided with waters of this nationality, little, turbaned, barefoot men who are never in the way, and always on hand, silent and deft. Many of them have served years with Captain Bakker and have a warm attachment for him, because of his kindly consideration and understanding.

The ship will make fifteen ports, on this coast, Malay Settlements and India, before returning to Vancouver next spring.
